

When you purchase any of our products listed on the Heavenly Beacon page, you will receive a box filled with miraculous wonders. Of course, we won't be sending you the actual satellite; we'll launch it for you. Instead, you'll receive a 1:1 scale 3D-printed replica, hand-painted by one of our founding members.

The box will contain a unique code that allows you to connect to our app and upload up to 10 prayers to your Heavenly Beacon. Once the prayers are uploaded, we will confirm with you and inscribe them onto your Heavenly Beacon.

We launch satellites in batches of 10. Through the app, you can choose the location where your satellite will be launched. Please note that we don't send them into the cosmos as you might expect; instead, we send them into the depths of the Earth. A selection of wells will be available for you to choose from in the app. After you make your selection and confirm it with us, we will begin the launch procedure. You will be notified when the final week of preparation approaches and again two days before the launch.

Once the lifespan of your satellite has ended, we will send you a new box – the same box your satellite was originally placed in before launch. This time, however, it will be empty, filled only with your courage, faith, and resilience to maintain your beliefs during this period.

Alongside your Heavenly Beacon replica, the package will also include A2-size and 6x8-inch framed prints. Additionally, we place a variety of surprises in each package, so don't be surprised when you open yours.

Have faith, dear friend. Keep your head up, carry on with your daily tasks, and let us handle the praying for you. We are an Institute, not a religion. We do not participate in any religious activities. We have our own gods, prayers, and beliefs, which you will not learn about here or elsewhere, for faith is best expressed through words and actions.
