Change Essay

Change

Change is everywhere. You Change. I Change. Almost everything changes at one time.

Change is linked to Time. Some examples are, Clocks, eggs hatching into a bird. Some things just change when it's time. Let's say a bird lays an egg. The egg will hatch in a certain amount of time. Or it's a dud.

Change can be positive or negative. Let's say you win the lottery. You probably will get new "Friends" But most of them would be people thinking they can get some extra money. Friends are valuable. Keep them. But this could be a positive also. The money would help you with life in lots of ways.

Change can be natural or caused by people. Let's use hair color. You may have naturally brown hair but you dyed it red.

Some people like to color their hair but some people don't like to.

So, there you have it! Change is everywhere. I hope you enjoyed this.
