3 Dear John,

by Victoria Li

An earthy rye with a spirulina twist. Dear John is a project that explores farewell, memories, and the English culture. This book is both a breakup and love letter to the place she called home from 2020.

4 breathwork

by Svenja Tong

Neapolitan ice cream sandwich with a breezy freshness of mint. An experimental breathwork poster-zine sequence to release toxins and nourish the mind.

5 Hangover

by Rose Wei

Three hard-to-swallow poems served on open-faced sandwich. Describing the intoxication of happenings, the three poems reciprocate with the indulging of encounters, separation, and reminisce.

6 Ryu Issue 01

by Chisa Kubota

A quintessential Taiwanese breakfast egg crepe. The tingling sensation of intimacy and solitude documented through the lense of a traveller's nostos.

7 Ryu Issue 02

by Chisa Kubota

A hot crossbun with a fruity fusion. Set against the soothing landscape of early summer in Norway, the 28-page photo zine explores the interconnectedness of flow and stay.

8 Hundred Feelings

by Rose Wei

Pita bread sandwich with extra artificial blended fillings. Glossary included, Hundred Feelings is a set of illegible characters.

9 London Street Fighter

by Elizabeth Lum

The ultimate London staple wrap. An illustrative instant book with innovative defence strategies against petty crimes.

10 Worksheet Zine

by canfishfly

Lunchable worksheet pack with homework crackers and cheesy answers. Worksheet Zine uses primary school worksheets found online to record the reader's pettiness as we mature.
