

A surreal landscape featuring rolling hills and a winding river. The scene is set against a dark night sky filled with stars and a bright, glowing light source on the right, which casts a long, horizontal beam of light across the sky. The hills are covered in dense, dark vegetation, and the river flows through the center of the landscape. The overall atmosphere is mysterious and otherworldly.

Terra Firma

"Terra Firma" is a latin phrase that translates to "solid earth," or dry land that is distinct from sea and air. This collection is inspired by my recent move to New York City, and alludes to the importance of a strong foundation at every level of nature, and particularly to the profound effect "stable ground" can have on a conscious being. Aiming to give the effect of looking upward from the ground while feeling firmly rooted in it, this collection is made up of foundational layering pieces designed to be worn for every occasion on land, from bottom to top-- from subway to skyscraper-- to assist in the wearers mission to gain physical success through providing comfort, versatility, and style, setting them up for success in any situation they may encounter in a city with endless opportunity and unpredictability, where dreams are built from the ground up.
