I begin with all that is silent, unsaid, and beautiful – ~~search for what lingers as it disappears.~~

~~I begin with all that is silent, unsaid, and beautiful.~~ From this place, my images emerge as meditations on impermanence — where form and light are pared to their essence, and presence is defined as much by what vanishes as by what remains. My work seeks beauty in restraint, in atmosphere, in the ~~trace that silence leaves behind.~~
