FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LAURA PEREZ-HARRIS
BELLY OF THE BEAST
March 13 - April 11, 2015
Opening Friday the 13th of March 7-10PM

Tomato House is delighted to present "Belly of the Beast," an immersive installation/performance experience created by Laura Perez-Harris. The opening performance takes place on Friday the 13th of March, from 7:00 to 10:00 in the evening.

For her first solo gallery exhibition Renaissance Woman Laura Perez-Harris has pulled out all the stops. The work takes the form of a journey that must be undertaken, through the looking glass, into the artwork itself- an expedition into the interior, biological and subconscious which each visitor must undertake alone. While the gallery is not in a position to speculate what each visitor may encounter on their trip within the belly, it is promised that all who enter will be seen to leave.

From ceramics and soft-sculpture to video and performance, "Belly of the Beast" employs an unlimited and eclectic range of materials and techniques to create a unified work that seeks to confront the viewers repressed anxieties.

Laura Perez-Harris is a graduate of the Rhode Island School of Design. A multidisciplinary artist, Perez-Harris is known for her comics and zines and performs with the band Gun Tit. Her work has been exhibited nationally and internationally, and is in the collection of the Smithsonian National Museum.

Tomato House is an artist run space in Ocean Hill, Brooklyn that hosts exhibitions, screenings, and community events. Gallery hours are Saturday 1:00 - 6:00 and by appointment. For more information or to schedule a viewing please contact Matthew Thurber at 646-801-7783.
