*Moontype Moontype is a type foundry based in Hamburg and Stockholm, run by Pia Schröer and Julia Flomm – two friends who teamed up to create unique, contemporary fonts. Their work focuses on researching gender-equitable approaches in type design and integrating these insights into their future typefaces.

*Onigiri Onigiri is an experimental display typeface inspired by the iconic triangular Japanese rice ball snack. Each letterform is designed to fit within the silhouette of an onigiri, giving the font its geometric structure and playful personality. The triangular rhythm and bold letters shape the typeface's strong, distinctive character.
