Skills

Designer exploring pop culture, nostalgia, and identity through graphic design and crafted objects. Has 2+ years of experience across agencies and freelancing—scope of work include, but not limited to: branding, spatial, publication, social and motion design. Ever-curious, open to collaboration and challenging oneself. Best at blending visual storytelling with playful experimentation, transforming them into new forms that reflect personal and collective histories. With a focus on accessibility and material culture, Kit's creative works blur boundaries between design, art, and lived experience.
