Introduction

Alfie Barnes is a visual artist and photographer. He is based between London and the Isle Of Wight and holds a BA in photography from the University of The Arts London (2025.) Alfie looks at the notion of closeness within his works using this to address the climate crisis, through the lens of queer ecology, navigating this space through the creation of self portraits. Alfie is dedicated to producing poetic and memorable works through his creative endeavours and continues to expand this in contemporary settings.
