I'm Ettore, a graphic designer based in Rimini, Italy. I'm currently attending a Master in Communication, Design and Publishing at ISIA Urbino, where I am developing skills in the areas of book design, typography and visual identity. Recently i also attended HGB in Leipzig and CFP Bauer in Milan. I am also very interested in Type design, photography and visual art. I like to experiment with new technological tools, but always starting from an analogue approach and putting typography at the centre.
