

Azul Espirito Santo

About

Azul Espirito Santo (2001, USA), a Portuguese-Peruvian textile artist based in Lisbon. I graduated in 2024 from the Fashion and Textile Design department at the Royal Academy of Art in The Hague. My practice moves between art and design, employing strategies of natural allowance to cultivate living, evolving systems within textile works.

My work exists between humanity and the innate impulse to create, reflecting a continuous exchange between being and making, allowing and controlling. Neither exists in isolation; the relationship is mutual, cyclical, and inseparable.

Textile remains central to my practice, as I believe it is an almost sacred discipline. While it continues to be worked, explored, and transformed, my relationship to textiles remains sacred and respected. Textile functions as a language between the human and the immaterial, and it is within this space that I seek to dive deeper, allowing new outcomes to emerge.
