

FALL'18 3 AM

Welcome insomniacs, dreamers, late-night schemers, stargazers, workaholics, club kids, night-shift workers, sleepless wanderers, and up-'til-dawners, to everyone burning the candle at both ends, whose midnight oil has long since turned to the wee hours of the morning: this is for you. 3am may be Hemingway's "dark night of the soul" but it is also a time of night when people are out having fun, people are putting finish touches on projects that they have poured their soul into, people are at their most vulnerable, and intimate moments abound in the dark. We at ISO hope you enjoy a peak into our communities' sleepless moments.

Love,

Nina & Katie

WAFFLE HOUSE

Night
The time I feel truly alive
I feel rejuvenated
Liberated
I feel like I can fly
There is no chaos nor drama
Stillness
3 am
Sitting in my room
Looking out the window
Observing a beautiful city
Beautiful New York City
No people
No sirens
No endless loudness
It's just me
Me, myself, and night
Shallow lights
Merely a few sounds
Equilibrium
I feel like I can fly
Fly far away to Neverland
Where 3 am is inescapable
Constant period of time
3 am
I am begging you
Don't leave me
Stay
And let me fly away

Bright Ink

When we met I hated you
But now you walk me home
And since we talked that night
My clock has been stuck at 3 am

I don't know you
But you're as broken as me
And being broken together is better
Than being broken alone

It's high noon
But we live for the nights
The dark is a friend
When you know the stars

Is it me,
Or is the moon
shining brighter
Tonight

Maybe we're not ok
Maybe we're damaged
But damn if we're not Taking the world by storm

Show the brightness in dark
Let the glow and the ink meld
And hope that it comes out
With shine woven through the blackness
