Bio

Madison is a photographer, writer, musician, maker from Atlanta, GA. Her work involves unsophisticated storytelling, aimlessness/ discomfort, constructed timelines belonging to nowhere in particular. Growing up in the south has influenced how her work sounds, feels, and looks. Many of her projects are interdisciplinary and reference experimental processes. Currently she is undertaking a long-term project to visit all of the 50 states and spending time writing a poetry chapbook titled, Mostly Entomology.
