coming up

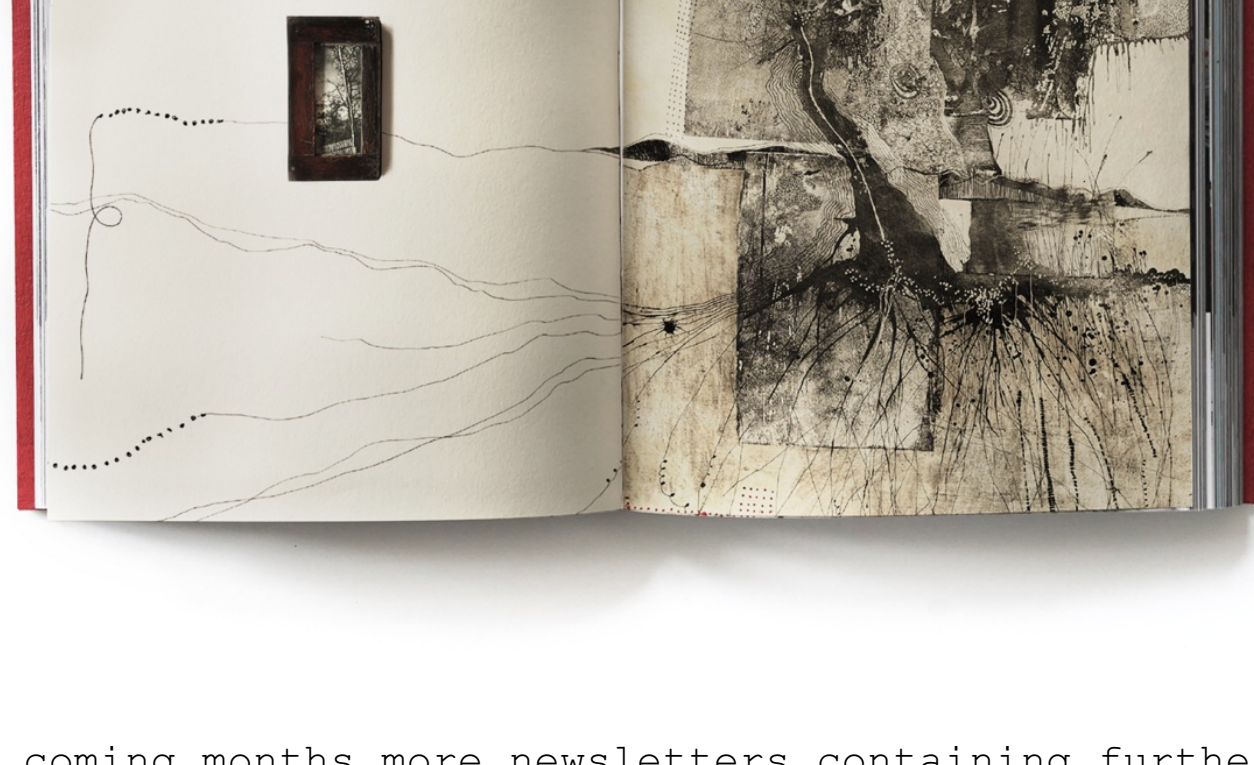

In January I placed 2 posts on my Instagram page to announce that I'm working on an artbook. The reactions were really overwhelming and very encouraging. More than 500 people have sent me an email or a DM with a request for more information. So for many of you this is the first time receiving my newsletter. I'm sorry I couldn't reply to all of you personally.

The title of the book is 'Thought Trails'. It is a reflection of the project I have been working on since 2021. The book is designed by Hamid Sallali and the text is written by art historian and curator Elisa Medde. It will be a hardcover, full colour book containing 108 pages of size 31 x 24 cm. The book's release date is planned for May/June 2025.

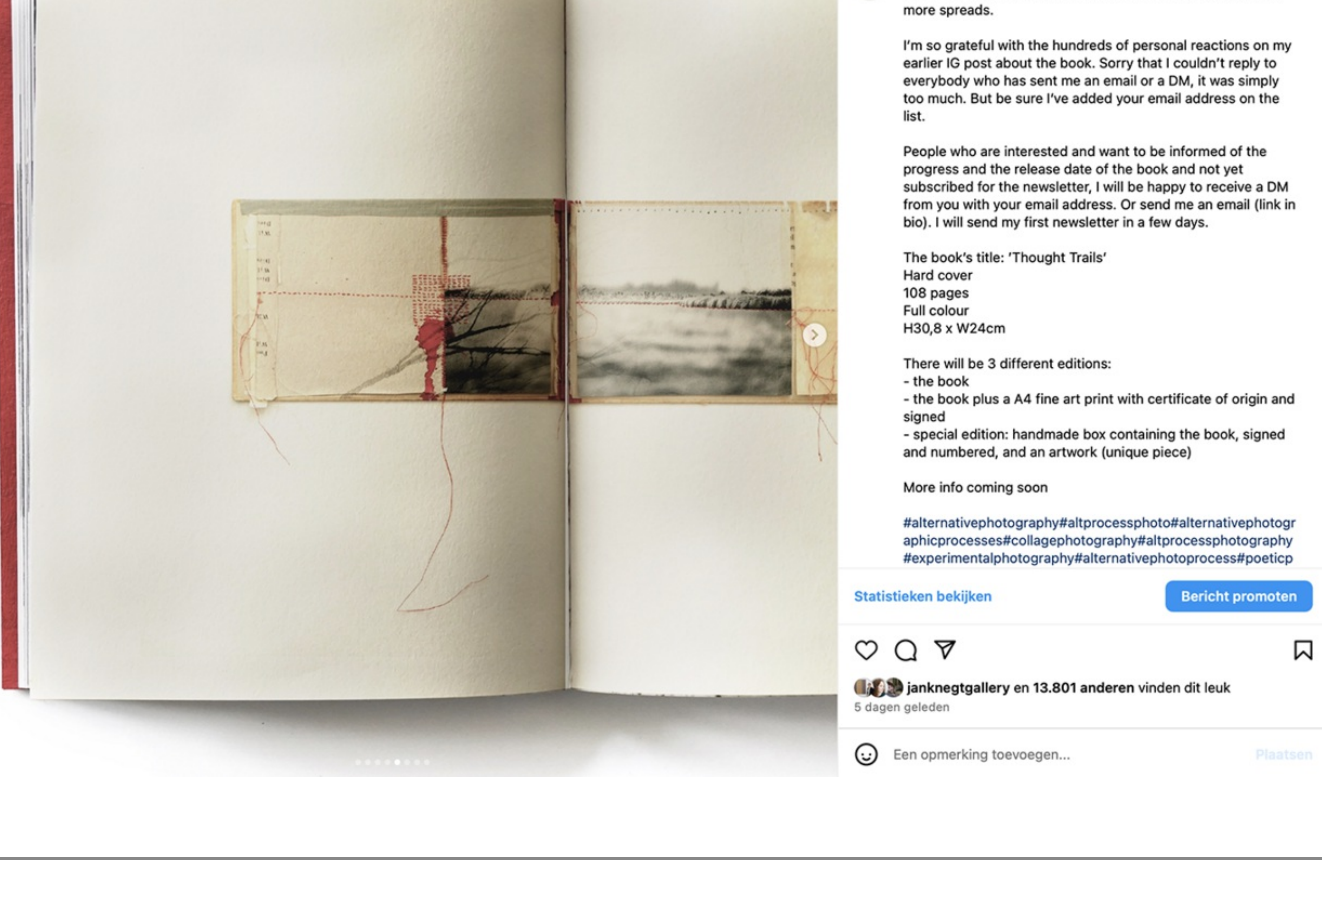

There will be 2 special editions. One comes with an A4 size fine art print with 'handstitched' elements. The second special edition contains a unique handmade artwork.

In the coming months more newsletters containing further information will follow. If this does not interest you, feel free to unsubscribe.

Art Genève Salon d'Art

This weekend my work can be seen in Switzerland for the first time. At Art Genève, gallery Taste Contemporary is presenting a selection of artworks from my 'Thought Trails' project.

"Taste Contemporary highlights dynamic and compelling contemporary and 20th-century works by exceptional artists who excel in material-driven expressions of form. Our artists, renowned leaders in ceramics, textiles, glass, and wood, continuously push boundaries with innovative and ambitious creations."

I am so excited that my work is surrounded by the amazing work of artists Akiko Hirai, Susanne Wellm, Isabelle Wenzel, Ptolemy Mann, Patrick Loughran, Martin Neubert, Jinya Zhao, Matthew Harris and Irina Razumovskaya.
