

Metal Slug

A material experiment using a waste object (aluminium cans). Instead of melting the cans down using a highly energy intensive process and using moulds made from environmentally damaging plaster, I created a net that would use one shape (with cut-outs) to form a three-dimensional slug.

Birdseye view of the metal slug.

Front, antennae view of the metal slug.

Diagonal front view of the metal slug.

Links to Social Medias

Instagram: <https://www.instagram.com/charlotteerart/>

Or search @charlotteerart

Medium: <https://medium.com/@charlotteemertonrolfe>

Or search Charlotte Emerton-Rolfe

LinkedIn: www.linkedin.com/in/charlotte-emerton-rolfe-8450102b3

Or search Charlotte Emerton-Rolfe