

Planning Your Visit to PSi 29 Assemble

Where to Stay?

Our main hub for the conference will be Senate House, University of London, alongside the adjacent Birkbeck Central and Birkbeck Gordon Square buildings. Senate House is centrally located in the Bloomsbury area next to the British Museum, and is well connected to London's underground, bus, and rail networks.

Walking distance (5-15 mins) hotels:

- Hub by Premier Inn Goodge Street
- Premier Inn London Holborn hotel
- Travelodge London Covent Garden
- St Giles London
- Arran House Hotel

Walking distance hostels:

- Smart Russel Square Hostel
- Generator London
- Astor Museum Hostel

London also has a large Airbnb presence, and it can often be cost-effective to split a booking. Our event web portal (available from May 20) includes a public message board that may be useful for delegates wishing to coordinate accommodation, ride shares, and other logistics.

Getting Around London

On the next page, you will find a map of our conference hub Senate House, including nearby public transport links and stations. Generally, any accommodation within London's public transport 'Zone 1' should provide easy access to the conference venues via the fast and reliable tube network.

For accurate navigation around London, we highly recommend using the app Citymapper, available on iOS and Android devices.

All our conference venues have step free access. For more on step free travel via the public transport network, visit:
