

STRING OF NARRATIVES

YOUR RESEARCH: FROM A STUDY TO A BOOK

The String of Narratives by studio Komnen offers bespoke, meaningful designs for scientific research, student theses, and creative writing publications. I am here to transform your unique research and the narrative of each chapter into a visually compelling and cohesive work, adding a personalised and aesthetic touch to the knowledge and message you wish to share.

I believe that every piece of research deserves to be treated with respect and care. That's why our focus will be on bringing out the beauty and clarity of your work, ensuring it not only looks appealing, but also communicates effectively. A process that results in designs reflecting the depth of your content, providing an experience that honours the dedication and effort you've put into your project up to this point.

Trust me to help you present your research with a design that resonates, making a lasting impression both within and beyond academia.

> What makes it unique to you?

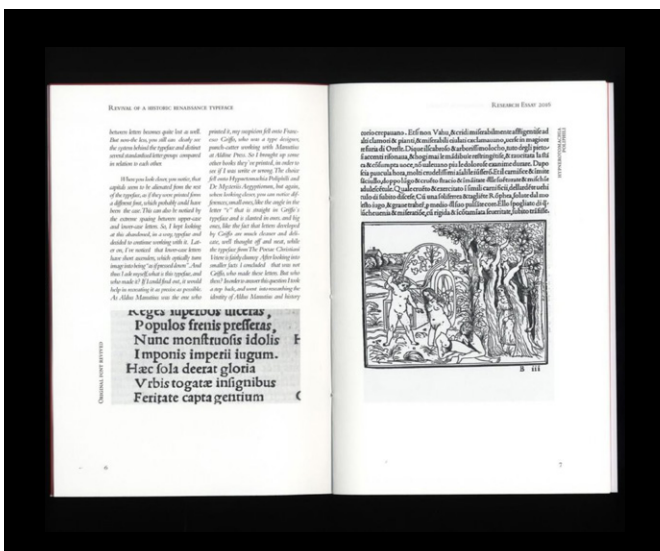

Kommen recognises the challenges you face in the academic publishing landscape. From feeling overwhelmed by the complexities of formatting and design to fearing that your research might go unnoticed, these hurdles can be daunting. This design offer is here to alleviate these concerns, allowing you to focus on what you do best - your research. What you are offered is a tailored approach that transforms your unique narratives into visually compelling publications, ensuring that your work not only stands out but also reaches the audiences that matter. With my support, you can present your research with confidence and/or provide your future publisher with a complete package (content+format) all while honouring the dedication you've poured into your work and making a lasting impact in your field.

> What does this experience hold?

By going through a clear and structured process, every client can expect a collaborative, supportive experience that results in a publication of high quality. Each step is designed to uphold your work and provide it with character that will leave an impression. This approach not only enhances your publication but also builds confidence in one's ability to share that very knowledge with the world.

KEY STEPS

- Initial Consultation: We will discuss your needs and vision for the publication. Assessing your requirement and evaluating the content & subjects to determine effective design strategies.
- Concept Development: Includes three initial design concepts tailored to your research.
- Design Execution: Creating a polished layout and visual elements that enhance readability.
- Review and Feedback: Includes several rounds of revisions (determined upon the complexity of the text) to ensure all necessary adjustments.
- Final Approval and Production: This step focuses on obtaining the final approval in order to begin preparation of the print ready files.
- Delivery of Final Product: You will be provided with the finished publication files in the agreed format. Guidelines for printing are included.
- Post-Publication Support: Ongoing assistance and advice for future projects is offered.
