

Brandon D. Joseph
He / Him

PROFILE

I have always had an immense passion for tangible media, from print and installation to woodworking. I have cultivated a practice that is informed by my love for history, both in design and fine arts. I thrive in team environments where collective creativity and diverse perspectives are valued, where I can foster strong relationships and inform an inclusive practice. Above all, I am driven by a love for learning, for acquiring new knowledge and skills across disciplines to become a more versatile creative.
