Culture [edit]

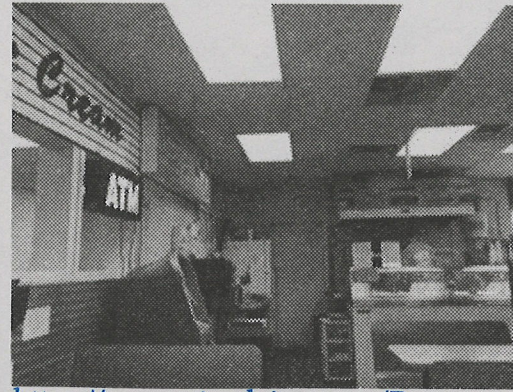

Tradition, family values, and home town spirit reflect in the activities throughout the community. The community members' commitment to remembering the past while pioneering innovative, technology-rich opportunities for young and old alike can be seen with clarity in the array of available quality clubs and organizations. Whether you are devoted to building better parks, providing graduates with scholarships for college business opportunities, serving the community through summer activities, or beautifying the square with colorful flora.

Churches and denominations [edit]

Sully hosts three churches ready to meet individual and family needs in the areas of spiritual growth, worship, and fellowship with others. The Christian Reformed Church, the Sully First Reformed Church, and the Sully Community Church, all mid-sized, fully staffed churches, are located close proximity of the town square. Each congregation offers Sunday and mid-week services as well as weekly Bible study groups, classes for youth group activities, and missions work opportunities.

Clubs and organizations [edit]

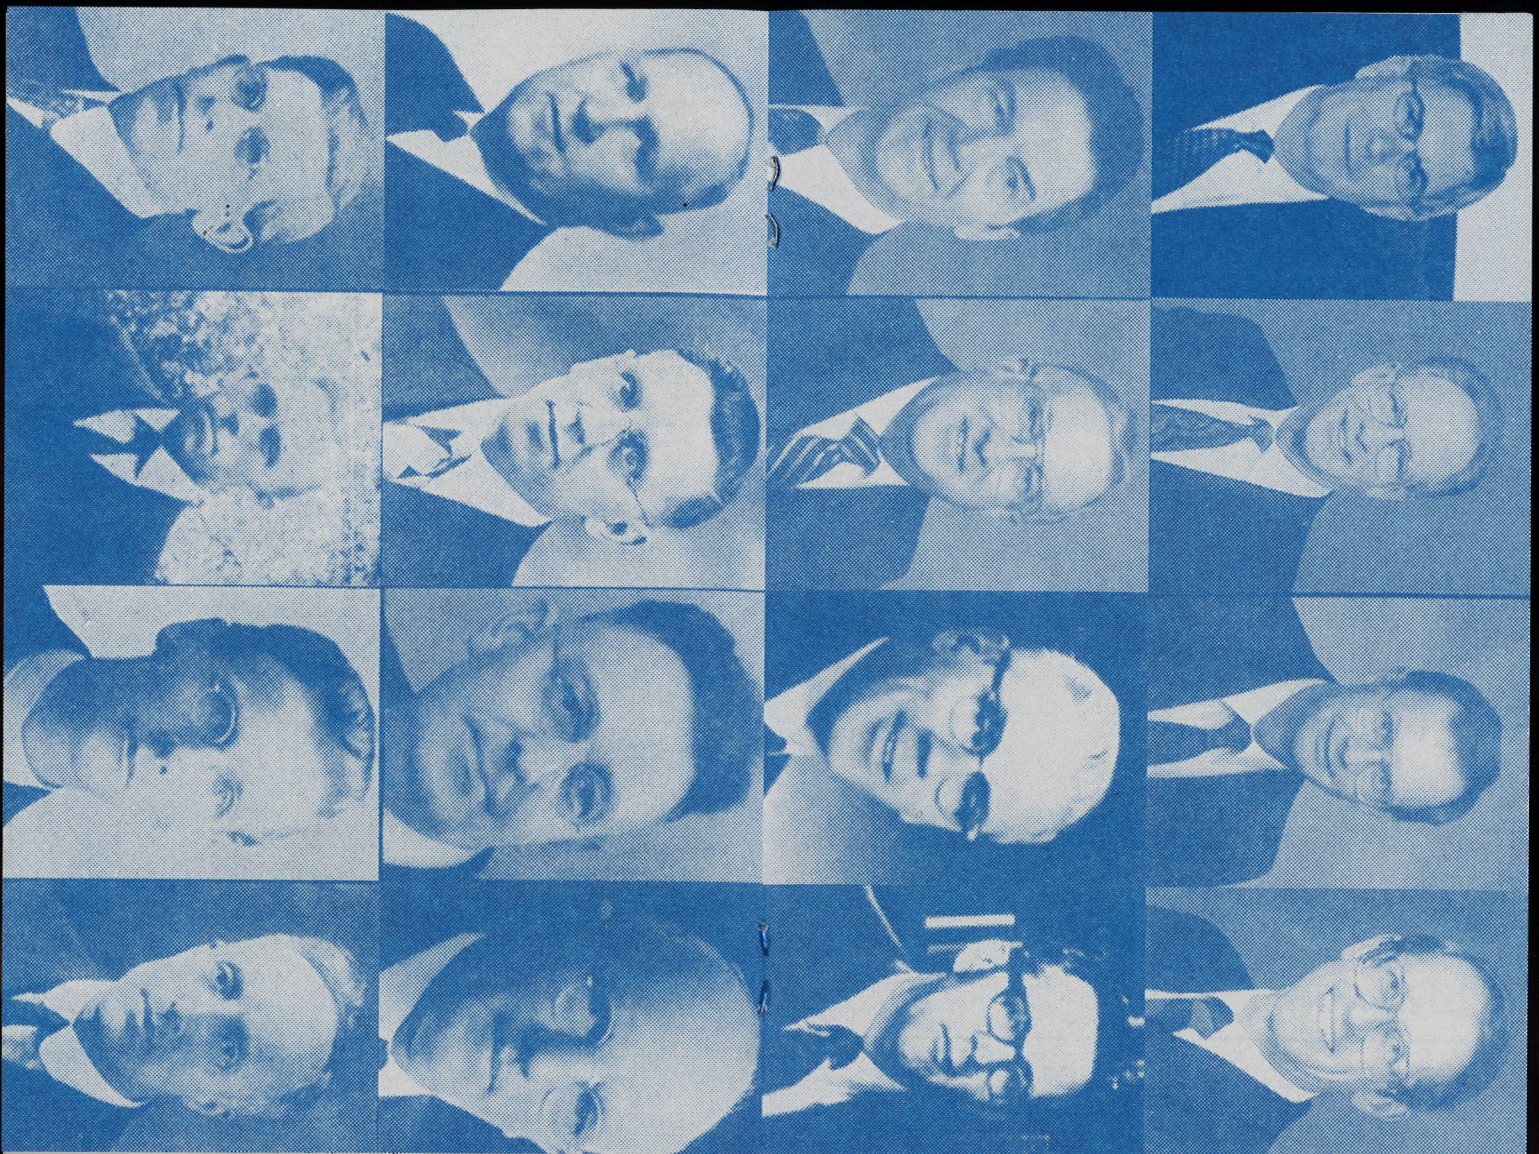

- The L-S Citizens' Scholarship Foundation is an organization that provides financial assistance to graduating seniors of Lynnville-Sully Community Schools, who plan to continue their education. The chapter is 14 years old and is affiliated with the national non-profit organization "Citizens' Scholarship Foundation of America". It operates with volunteer, non-salaried school district citizens. It is an incorporated, non-profit, tax-exempt organization.
- The Sully Lions Club (District 9MC) was chartered September 15, 1953. Club members converted a closed alley in Sully to a beautiful the "Lions Club Courtyard". It includes the old city fire bell, a picnic table, and several benches.
- The Garden Thyme Club was organized in August 1999 by a group of ladies with a common interest. This club meets monthly and is made up of persons who enjoy flowers, gardening and the camaraderie of friends. The club has held various fundraisers over the years such as garden gate auction and a "picnic in the park" to support various community projects; the most recent project being the purchase of banner street light poles around the town square. However, the primary focus of the Garden Thyme Club is the ongoing care and maintenance of the Deep Rock Station and Gardens located on the northeast corner of the town square. Be sure to walk through these gardens to see the w club.
