EXPERIENCE

6 MONTHS NBD SENIOR WEB DESIGNER + LEAD

At NBD I work as a Senior Web Designer and Quality Control Lead, I specialized in developing and refining visual identities for both new and existing brands, including designing company websites and creating marketing materials. I led a team of designers, coordinating projects and ensuring adherence to brand guidelines. My role involved employing a creative and detail-oriented approach to design briefs, staying current with industry trends and technologies, and effectively presenting concepts and updates through Slack, calls, and Loom recordings. I ensured high-quality results and consistent brand representation while overseeing the design process and team collaboration.

3 YEARS SOMNIO UI AND BRAND DESIGNER

As a UI Designer at Somnio, I've led design projects for esteemed clients such as Trip Advisor, AT&T, and Dell. My role encompasses comprehensive brand identity development and user interface design, with a specialized focus on B2B website initiatives. Leveraging tools like Figma, I craft wireframes and prototypes to deliver intuitive interfaces that elevate user experience and align with strategic business objectives.

Integral to my approach is collaboration with development teams, ensuring design integrity from concept to execution. I actively engage in QA processes to ensure flawless functionality and facilitate seamless project transitions through streamlined development handoffs.

1.5 YEARS SAGAPIXEL UI AND BRAND DESIGNER

At Sagapixel, I was responsible for executing web design projects from inception to launch. I created detailed website mockups in Adobe XD and built responsive, user-centric sites using WordPress and Elementor. A key aspect of my role was working alongside the development team to ensure that designs were implemented accurately and to the highest standard.

My designs catered to the unique needs of small to medium-sized businesses, ensuring their online presence was both visually appealing and functionally robust. As the lead on various client accounts, I ensured the success of each project by managing deadlines and coordinating with our small yet agile web design team.
