About Me

Autumn English

I'm currently an interior design student at the College for Creative Studies. Interior design excites me because it blends creativity with technical precision, while offering the chance to positively impact people's lives. I have a passion for designing sleek, elegant spaces that incorporate unique textures and materials. I look forward to continuing my journey, crafting spaces that are both aesthetically pleasing and highly functional.

This stunning two-bedroom home combines natural elements with luxurious, sustainable design. High-quality wood and stone materials create a refined atmosphere, while the spacious open-concept kitchen, dining area, and wine closet are perfect for entertaining. The beautiful backyard and pool enhance the home's appeal. Key features include high ceilings, large windows, and arches, adding architectural elegance. A private theater provides an immersive entertainment experience, and the thoughtfully chosen textures and colors create a moody yet welcoming ambiance. Key software used included Revit and Photoshop.

This project blends the serene minimalism of Mykonos with the client's eclectic taste in a Naples, Florida residence. By combining subtle neutrals and rich textures, the design fosters comfort, while vibrant pops of blue echo the iconic hues of Mykonos and the local ocean. Using AutoCAD, SketchUp, Enscape, Photoshop, and InDesign, the result is a harmonious space that is both tranquil and visually engaging.

This project, designed for a fictional client—a single music producer in Los Angeles—was executed entirely by hand. The client, a frequent traveler, desired a warm and welcoming home for herself and her two cats, balancing contemporary and youthful elements while accommodating her extensive record collection. To achieve her preferred dark and moody aesthetic, I infused the space with warmth and strategically used lighting to create contrast and interest, resulting in a trendy yet cozy atmosphere that reflected her personal style.
