Brett Littman

Executive Director, The Drawing Center, New York

11am on Tuesday, December 6th
at
KNMA, 145, South Court Mall, Saket, New Delhi 110017

All are welcome and refreshments will be served.

Brett Littman, Executive Director of The Drawing Center, New York will present a lecture entitled "From Lascaux Caves to Autocad." The talk will explore the curatorial decisions that have shaped The Drawing Center's programming since its founding in 1977. A wide range of issues will be explored, including: What is the relevance of drawing in contemporary culture? How does one define the activity of drawing today? What does it mean to expand the definition of drawing to encompass other disciplines like architecture, design, music, science, food, dance?
