Curators Collective Open Call 2026

CuCo is a pilot project in Aarhus bringing together young curators from across Denmark. The project supports those who often fall outside the established structures of the music scene and equips them to design and lead their own formats through professional development and exchange of experience.

Who we're looking for

We're looking for curious, community-minded individuals aged 16–30 who are already active – or ready to get active – in the cultural field.

You might be a DJ, event-maker, artist manager, or part of a collective. You might have hosted small gatherings, curated line-ups, run workshops, or built communities.
