Bio

Meet Morgan, a 32-year-old sustainability consultant living in a suburban area of Portland. With a Bachelor's degree in Environmental Science, she's deeply passionate about eco-friendly practices and values authenticity in all aspects of her life. Balancing her busy schedule, Morgan enjoys exploring local farmers' markets and hiking, all while maintaining a plant-based diet. As a health-conscious individual, she seeks convenient and nutritious food options that align with her values. Drawn to businesses that prioritize sustainability and quality, Morgan is excited to discover a bakery specializing in natural, dietary-specific offerings, where she can indulge in creative flavors that cater to her lifestyle.
