

OPEN CALL FOR NEW MEMBERS

starting March or April

We are searching:

New members of our association au jus vzw who

- enjoy collaboration and organization—minding that this is often unpaid, demanding work.
- reside in Brussels and be able to commit to a minimum of one year
- wish to share and actively make and maintain space.
- contribute to the project with new perspectives, skills and ideas.

If your practice is primarily solo or if you are seeking a studio space for individual artistic work, au JUS may not be the best fit.

Note that with this call we aim to increase the representation of FLINTA, BIPOC, crip, and non-European members within our association.

What we offer:

- Space: Members can use our space as a temporary work studio, which includes:
 - Main gallery (40 m²)
 - Basement level (40 m², divided into two rooms)
 - Garden area (15 m² outdoor space, still a fictional garden with a lot of potential)
 - Residency apartment (20 m² short stay, project-related interventions)
- Program: Members can take part in building our program holds space for
 - collective processes and play
 - queer inclusive practices
 - resident artists and researchers

What we expect:

- Members adhere to the statute of the association
- share responsibility for the rental agreement the space.
- uphold shared ethics about collective work and societal issues.
- participate in rotating roles for administration, event organization, and space maintenance, including the upkeep of the residency apartment.

How to Join:

Our current monthly working costs 1320 Euro per month for the whole three-stories space + running costs for organising at the location at Avenue Jean Volders 24.

We share this cost through our association's members contributions, project funding, donations, space rental and event revenue, whilst maintaining a fair pay policy for artists.

You can decide which role to engage with au JUS, and adjust or define a role to fit your needs:

- Statutory Member
Assume a mandate within the association and be responsible for realising the associations' purpose. This implies contributing a variable monthly membership fee according to the association's costs and assuming responsibility on all levels within the association.
- Organising Member
Approximately €100 to 150€ monthly contribution. Includes Space Access and Program Involvement.
- Supporting Member
Approximately 20€ to €80 monthly. Includes free access to public events. By paying more you support Supported Members.
- Supported Member
Available when our budget exceeds costs. Includes Space Access and Program Involvement or free access to public events for persons who are lacking of funds.

If you're interested in joining au JUS we encourage you to APPLY via the Character Sheet to let us know which roles you can and wish to play in our association.

Current Members:

While we mainly use English in our collective communication, we also speak other languages: French, Dutch, German, Spanish, and Russian.

Beyond a curatorial interest in games and role-play practices, we work across different disciplines: Art as a social practice, Film and interactive media, Critical Theory, Textile Arts, Writing and Music

We are curious what you bring along and look forward to meeting you!
