It's always been a special time for us and now our grand children

Christmas Eve we spend at our house preparing our Christmas morning breakfast, Sausage Souffle. Once prepared, we cook and eat dinner then watch a classic holiday movie.

On Christmas Eve, my older brother's family comes for dinner, and on Christmas morning, we visit my brother's for breakfast in our PJs. Christmas Day is with my younger brother's family, featuring my grandmother's homemade soup, my own meatballs, pasta with homemade gravy (not sauce), and holiday cookies for dessert.
