

[illegible]

With high-contrast strokes, softly flared terminals, and a low x-height, Gravity #19 sits somewhere between a neo-humanist serif and an experimental oldstyle revival. Its sculptural curves and deliberate irregularities mimic the haunting repetitions of the music, creating a rhythm that feels simultaneously mechanical and emotional.

Gravity 19
Gravity 19
Gravity 19
Gravity 19